

9E.9A Defective notarial act.

An instrument in writing to which is attached a defective certificate of acknowledgment attached by a notary public more than ten years earlier is valid, legal, and binding as if the instrument had been properly acknowledged by the notary public.

96 Acts, ch 1060, §1